Corps official discusses county seawall protection

BY TRACI BONNEY

Study time apparently isn't over yet for the county's beach renourishment plans.

However, the latest study proposal may reap results in the form of funds from the Corps of Engineers.

Johnny Grandison has been assigned by the Mobile Division of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers to study the possibility of Corps support in the proposed project.

Grandison met with the board of supervisors Thursday in a workshop session to discuss what the Corps will and will not do.

He said Roger Burke had put him on the project after meeting with the supervisors, Sand Beach Advisory Committee, Bill Mitchell, Rep. Gene Taylor and others about a month ago to discuss funding possibilities for the renourishment of 6.2 miles of beach.

"Roger Burke felt this project had potential for a Section 14 project," Grandison commented. "Section 14" is Section 14 of the Shoreline and Streambank Erosion Protection Program.

Mitchell reminded the supervisors that Burke had said beach renourishment is a low priority for the Corps; however, seawall protection is important

Superintendent, supervisors disagree over phone service

BY TRACI BONNEY

The county may provide phone service for the county schools superintendent, but it won't be until next Wednesday at the earliest.

The question of telephone service arose when Superintendent Myrna Bourgeois was told by the Port and Harbor Commission that she and her staff would have to vacate their office at Stennis Air Park by October 1 to make way for anticipated passenger service. Bourgeois worked with the board of supervisors to find a building to rent for her office.

The lower floor of the building that houses Rannie Ladner's karate studio, on Hwy. 90 across from Wal Mart in Waveland, was found to be suitable, and the board reached an agreement with Ladner. The superintendent and her staff started moving.

When it came to either moving the present phone system or replacing it, however, progress hit a snag.

The board of supervisors, acting on advice from attorney Gerald Gex, voted August 13 not to provide the school district's central office with phone service. In offering his opinion, Gex cited a state statute which mandates that the board of supervisors provide the superintendent with an office, "together with all necessary furniture, water, gas, electricity

Water's Edge accepted

The City of Waveland accepted Water's Edge subdivision Wednesday in spite of incomplete asphalt of roads and the lack of a report by contracted engineer Jimmy Chiniche.

Subdivision developer Derek Breerwood presented a packet of inspection reports and department verifications reporting all service lines are complete and functioning.

Mayor Stella Fritol stated she had not yet received a verification from Chiniche that all work meets inspection criteria.

Ward 1 alderman Barbara Rappold said, "I'm not crazy about making this motion when the work is not completed, but since the city ordinance permits such conditions, I make the motion to accept."

City ordinances allow city acceptance under two conditions. One, at 100 percent completion; and the other, at substantial completion with bonding for the difference.

City planner Ray Eaton reported to the board the near completion of the FmHA water and sewer extension project.

He stated, punch list items are being compiled and 100-200 feet of pipe remain to be laid within the next few days to complete the sewer connection. Only ditch work and street cleaning remains to be finished. Eaton stated the contractor asked for a few additional days to replace those days in which work was stopped because of rain.

STREET OVERLAY

Fritol asked the board for authority to spend up to a specified amount of money for street overlay work. She said certain streets where current FmHA work was performed had suffered breakage due to heavy equipment and re-routed traffic passage. She asked to contract with G&M Construction Company for the work.

Attorney Robert Genin, substituting for city attorney Lucien Gex, said the board Primary election results from Tuesday, August 4 gave Rouse 77 votes in Hancock County and 613 in the district while Frierson garnered 309 votes countywide and 537 in the district.

The Democratic winner of Tuesday's runoff will face Republican Hester Plache, who defeated Curtis Johnson on August 4, and Independent candidate Hilda Bourg in November.

Delinquent realty tax sales start Monday

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

Delinquent realty tax sales for Hancock County, Bay St. Louis and Waveland will begin on Monday.

Edward Murtagh, Hancock County Tax Assessor/Collector, on Friday said the number of parcels involved in the county and Bay St. Louis is about half as many as last year.

The county and Bay St. Louis bidding sale will begin at 8:30 a.m. in the courtroom on the second floor, Hancock County Courthouse. It will continue until the sale of delinquent parcels is complete.

Sharon Jacobi, Waveland tax collector, will conduct the sale for that city's delinquent property taxes at the front door of the City Hall, Coleman Avenue.

Realty property taxes are due each January.

Henderson to chair United Way campaign

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

Don Henderson, Hancock Medical Center administrator, has been named 1992 Hancock County area campaign chairman for the United Way.

Henderson, first chair, replaces A.C. Adam, who was transferred to Baton Rouge, La. by Gerry Lane Enterprises. Hilda Bourg, operating committee chairman, made the announcement.

Serving as first chair is Gwen Meyers with Toni Larroux as second chair.

The United Way of Hancock

County recently joined forces with Harrison and Pearl River counties to become the United Way of South Mississippi.

The United Way of South Mississippi's overall campaign chairman is Mississippi Power Company Coast district manager Ronnie Bates, who is also Harrison area chairman. Edith McDonald, McDonald Funeral Home, Picayune, is Pearl River area chairman.

The 1992 goal for the United Way of South Mississippi is $1.1 million. The goal for the 1991 campaign in Hancock was $140,000.

In commenting about the $1.1 million goal, Bates said, "In reaching this goal we won't really serve all the needs we have in our area."

Henderson, a resident of Diamondhead, is married to the former Dinah Maloy of Virginia. They are the parents of a two-year-old daughter, Laura.

Henderson chose his cabinet for the Hancock area, and Jo Ann Lagasse will serve as Pacesetter (business) chairman.

United Way campaign

The cabinet for the Hancock area committee for the United Way of South Mississippi has been selected and is making plans for this year's campaign. Among those involved in the campaign are from left, Gwen Meyers, first chair; Don Henderson, campaign chairman; Jane Samia, publicity; and Jo Ann Lagasse, Pacesetter chairman. (Echo staff photo by Ellis Cuevas)

A Hancock Pacesetter kickoff breakfast sponsored Thursday by the Woodland Village Retirement Center at Diamondhead.

Volunteers are being sought to do various tasks in the Hancock area campaign. Anyone interested in helping can reach Henderson at 467-9081, or call the United Way of South Mississippi, 467-9501.

Henderson reports the 1992 campaign is trying to raise 15% more over the three-county area by broadening the scope of participation by area businesses.

Rotary takes foreign study applications

BY TRACI BONNEY

Last year it was Australia; this year, Brazil.

The Rotary Foundation Group Study Exchange is accepting candidates for a six-week goodwill and study program in South America.

Last year, five business people and one team leader from the local Rotary district trekked to a Rotary district in Australia for an up-close-and-personal look at life Down Under. Hancock Bank employee Clay Wagner was one of the team members.

"It was the experience of a lifetime," he commented. "The country was great, but the people were the best part."

"I lived in seven different homes during the 6½ weeks I was there. I got to know a lot of people."

"I moved every Saturday. Since it was the weekend, the people were laid-back, but they were minding their Ps and Qs, and I was minding my Ps and Qs, too."

"Then, when the week got started, everyone had work and school, and they weren't minding me so much. By mid-week, they were going about their normal lives, and I got to see how they really were in their everyday comings and goings."

Wagner, a banker, spent one day each week in his vocation. Although he didn't get to visit the Australian Outback, he was able to see some of the countryside around Melbourne, where he stayed during the six-week study period.

"I would highly recommend the GSE program to anyone who might be able to even think of going," Wagner said.

To be eligible to participate, you must be a business or professional person 25-35 years old, who has been employed in any recognized business or profession, on a full-time basis, for at least two years. You must also be a resident of the U.S. and must either work or live in the local Rotary district.

In addition, you cannot be a Rotarian; an employee of a club, district or other Rotary entity, or Rotary International; a spouse, lineal descendant (child or grandchild by blood, or any legally adopted child), spouse of a lineal descendant, or an ancestor (parent or grandparent by blood) of any Rotary member or employee.

Those selected will receive a Rotary Foundation award that pays for round-trip economy airline transportation. Accommodations and travel in the Rotary district visited will be provided by local Rotarians.

The GSE team members provide their own funds for personal and incidental expenses, and must also purchase medical/hospital and accidental death/dismemberment insurance for the six-week period.

Those interested in applying to the program may call Jay Fleuriet at 467-0200.

Chamber encourages voter registration

The Hancock Chamber of Commerce is joining the U.S. Chamber of Commerce and Vote America Foundation in urging more Americans to vote.

They will work together in 1992 to help local businesses organize programs to encourage employees to register and vote.

"The business environment offers local business people unique opportunities to educate and encourage employees to register and vote," said Basil Kennedy, Chamber president.

"Our partnership with the U.S. Chamber and Vote America will enable us to reach many of our local businesses with proven techniques to make sure the voice of the business community is heard."

To get more voters to the polls this November, the Hancock Chamber is asking its members to encourage their employees to make certain they are registered to vote for the November election.

The deadline to register by mail is September 2. Mail-in registration forms may be obtained from the Chamber office at 412 Hwy. 90 in Bay St. Louis or at the Circuit Clerk's office in the Hancock County Courthouse.

The deadline to register in person at the Circuit Clerk's office is Oct. 2, 1992 for the November election.

The Chamber asks employers to make certain their employees have time available to them to vote during poll hours, 7 a.m. until 7 p.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 3.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

It always amazes me how there are those who take advantage of someone who cannot defend himself. A person has to be very low down to do this; yet, we have them in our community.

Thank goodness there are only a few; but they do exist.

For instance, last Saturday night several 'low downs' broke into a tomb at the Riverside Cemetery next to McLeod Water Park.

The person whose body was in the coffin did not have any way to defend the action being taken.

Not only did they break through cement blocks of the tomb, they pulled the coffin outside and then tried unsuccessfully to open it. In doing so, the seal was broken.

I do not know how many of you have purchased a coffin lately, but the prices are not cheap by a long shot.

I am hoping the culprits will be caught, and the 'book' is thrown at them by a judge.

By the way, a person could be fined as little as $500, or have to serve as much as five years. Oh! How would I like to see these culprits nailed, and get five years in the 'big house.'

They would think twice before they disturbed another dead person.

I urge anyone with any information to call the Hancock County Sheriff's office at 467-5101. Your help will be greatly appreciated.

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's officers and board of directors were unanimous Monday night in support of a U.S. Chamber of Commerce and Vote America Foundation statement urging more Americans to vote.

A big push is on nationwide for local businesses to encourage employees to register and vote.

The deadline for mail-in registration for the general election in November is Sept. 2.

The deadline for registration at the Circuit Clerk's office in the Hancock County Courthouse is Oct. 2 for the November general election.

The Chamber office on Highway 90 next to the Peoples Bank has mail-in registration forms, as does the Circuit Clerk's office.

Businesses and industry leaders need to urge all of their employees to register and encourage them to vote on election day.

The results in many elections would be different if every qualified elector voted.

By the way, every vote does count, as we have had several elections in Hancock County in which the outcome was decided by only one vote.

I received a visit Thursday from a resident who is asking some very good questions about the Mississippi Use Tax Law Section 27-67-1 - 27-67-33 Mississippi Code of 1972.

Arthur Leineweber Sr. of Bay St. Louis is sending letters to legislators seeking answers as to why mobile homes, motor homes and semi-trailers are taxed at 3%, and he had to pay 7% tax on his travel trailer.

Leineweber said his recreational travel trailer has a bedroom, kitchen, bath, living room and a dining room, just like a mobile home. He also states there are many who live full time in travel trailers.

Leineweber would like to see a clarification on the law, because he says it states, "...A tax of 3% should be collected on vehicles such as mobile homes, motor homes and semi-trailers and a 7% tax on such vehicles as motorcycles, mopeds and trailers..."

He feels that a mobile home and travel trailer are both capable of being moved, and should be covered by the same tax.

Good luck, Arthur!

IN CONGRESS

By Rep. Gene Taylor

Whose $$$ is it?

Sheldon Richman, a senior editor at the Cato Institute, wrote recently that Congress treats the taxpayer's purse as if it "belongs to them" and that government thinks it "knows how to spend your money better than you." He also observed that politicians believe spending stimulates economic growth.

He rightly asks the question: "Whose money is it anyway?" I know, as you know, that it's your money. Congress should be better stewards of it.

What those who want to continue to increase taxes forget are these words—what government gives, it must first take away.

When Ronald Reagan, a Republican Senator and a conservative-controlled House gave us a tax cut in 1981, it ushered the longest period of sustained economic growth in our history. Roughly 18 million new jobs were created.

That was all taken away with new taxes in 1986, 1988 and 1990. Now in 1992, some are proposing even more tax hikes. The majority in Congress has it backwards. Government shouldn't tax and spend its way out of a recession, it should cut taxes and wasteful spending.

A measure currently before the Senate is being called the Urban Aid Bill. It turned into a $31 billion revenue act with only $5.5 billion designated for enterprise zones. This happens all too often, when a tax bill comes through Congress and gets loaded with all kinds of non-related items. But even though the bill lost much of its identity, it surprisingly has some attractive qualities.

The bill contains six of the president's seven economic growth proposals including: first-time home buyer credits; investment tax allowance; alternative minimum tax simplification; passive loss relief; modified real estate investment rules for pension funds; and IRA flexibility.

The problem with many of these "good" proposals though, was that they were altered. For example, the request for a home buyer credit was cut in half and would only apply to purchases between July 28 and December 31, 1992. Also, capital gains rate cuts were excluded.

I once asked the folks in a Liberty, Mississippi, drug store that I'm fond of if they wanted a capital gains cut. Without exception, every hand in that room went up overwhelmingly signaling yes.

I know, and the Mississippians in Liberty know the importance of tax relief. That is why HUD Secretary Jack Kemp and I, along with five others, recently sent a memo to the Bush campaign chairs outlining what we feel is essential for economic recovery.

In it we called for no more tax hikes or increased government spending. America needs across-the-board income-tax rate reduction, a less complex tax system and a capital gains cut. America needs to make government reevaluate all spending, regulate less and eliminate waste.

The hardworking people of this country must have tax relief. They have pulled the wagon of mismanagement until they can pull no more. It's time to cut taxes and abolish wasteful government spending.

FROM THE SENATE

By Senator Trent Lott

This dog won't hunt

When I used to go hunting with my grandfather and he had a hound that wouldn't stay on the trail, he'd say, "This dog won't hunt." My grandfather would then pen him up and get a better dog that did want to hunt.

Well, this dog of a Congress won't hunt.

The American people have been fooled long enough. They need to know that the blame for a lagging economy, outrageous taxes and a wounded domestic agenda is the fault of Congress and not the present or any past executive branch. It is the failure of Congress to take action on any type of needed initiative or reform.

Prime example—over a year and a half ago we had a problem in the Persian Gulf. The American people became, and rightly so, concerned about being overly dependent on foreign crude. There was a consensus that we needed to do something about energy policy and energy independence, and we needed to do so quickly.

Let me tell you what Congress did—nothing for 518 days. Stalemate, gridlock, politics—call it what you will, but Congress gets a big fat zero for getting the issue to the floor in a timely manner.

But wait there's more, much more. Here is my short list of initiatives currently being held hostage by Congress:

—Education Excellence Act — over 1,210 days past due — Savings & Economic

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Conquer drug problems through trust in God

Dear Editor,

I want to talk about the meeting we had Monday night, concerning the drug problems in our community.

There was talk about all the programs in our schools and organizations in our society which help to fight drugs.

I had no problem with what was said, but when I was on my way home, I was thinking about

President Bush and when during the Gulf War crises he said, "Let us pray for our troops to come home."

The Lord answered our prayers and the troops came home.

As Christians we need to come together and pray, and trust God to end this problem of drugs.

to the agency.

Grandison concurred, and added that seawall protection is not important for general erosion prevention, but does concern the Corps when it deals with protecting public property that may be of federal interest.

In other words, because the seawall in question protects Beach Boulevard, a roadway important to the local — and indirectly, the state and federal — economy, the Corps may have an interest in helping repair the seawall.

Grandison said the project must be cost beneficial if the Corps is to do it. The Corps will conduct a study to evaluate the potential loss if the seawall is not repaired before determining whether or not to take on the project.

There was no question that the Corps would help, if possible. "We'd like to attempt to do something here in short order, at least as quick as it can," Grandison commented.

The first step for the study group will be to identify the project(s) and determine what type and depth of studies will be needed. Grandison said a study group plans to visit the county next Thursday to survey the potential sites.

An in-house review and another review by Corps officials in Atlanta will determine whether or not the agency agrees to fund any projects.

Grandison said he wants to see construction started in about six months.

He added that under Section 14, the maximum federal contribution is $500,000 per project site.

Road superintendent Sam Cuevas told Grandison the county has at least half a dozen sites that qualify.

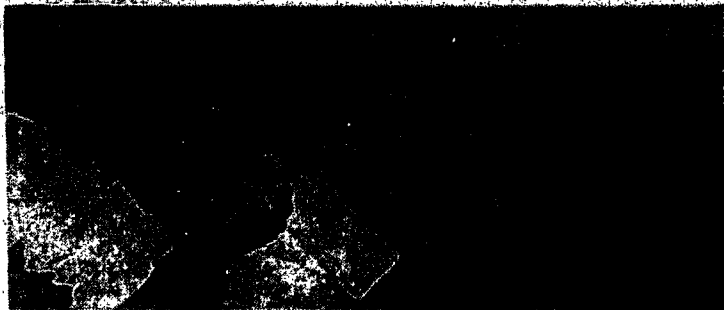

County engineer Larry Seal asked what percentage of the funds for the projects must come from the county.

Grandison said that if the study costs are $40,000 or less, the county won't pay anything for the study. However, if the cost is more than $40,000, the county will be required to pay half the total study cost.

In the construction phase, the county is required to pay at least five percent of the total cost in cash, and 20 percent more in either cash or in-kind services. Total construction cost includes pre-construction engineering and design, Grandison said.

would have to amend the contract with GM&R, naming the specific streets to be overlaid.

He commented that he understood by contracting with the existing company, the city would save on set up costs, which another company would charge should one need to be brought in for the work.

The city would also have to pay the cost for the overlay work itself, as FmHA monies cannot be spent on street repairs.

Weidman asked if the city could not hold the contractor responsible for the deterioration of the streets, to which Genin responded "if there was neglect on the contractors part."

Frilot commented the ones damaged were older streets, 10-foot wide and thinly layered with asphalt.

The board recessed until 6:30 p.m. Monday, for the purpose of amending the city's contract with GM&R for overlay work.

The board approved the rental of firemen's uniforms at a cost of $46.15 per week for one year.

The cost will include all cleaning and disposal of wastewater as directed by OSHA, Occupational Safety and Health Administration guidelines.

Frilot explained, since Waveland firemen answer medical calls and may possibly come into contact with contagious diseases, OSHA regulations dictate the washing of uniforms and disposal of the wastewater be made in a specific manner.

Fire chief David Garcia's recommendation to rent the uniforms cited a $1,008 yearly savings, compared to the purchase cost.

Weidman dissented on the vote.

The board approved ratification of a poll vote for the lease/purchase of two Woods Mow'n Machines for $660 per month for 24 months.

Discussion of payment of $4,312 for an accident claim by the Waveland Police Department resulted in Weidman dissenting on approval of the docket.

Frilot said the money was to reimburse the insurance company for legal services as the accident case went to court. She added, the city's insurance policy had a $5,000 deductible.

Supervisors

and other utilities necessary and required for the operation of said office, which shall be paid out of the general fund of the county upon allowance of the board of supervisors."

The county traditionally has provided phone service for the superintendent; however, Gex asserted the idea that telephones are not a utility, and therefore not covered by the statute.

A definition from older editions of Webster's dictionary supports his opinion. However, new editions of the dictionary do list telephone service under "utility." Black's Law Dictionary lists telephone service under "public utility."

Bourgeois gave copies of the Black's Law Dictionary entry, a new Webster's dictionary entry, and several attorney general's opinions to the supervisors Thursday at their workshop meeting. She told the board that according to the definition of "public utility" in Black's Law Dictionary and the AG opinions, the board must provide her office the telephone service.

She asked that the board consider calling an emergency meeting to address the matter. However, the law does not allow emergency meetings for telephone service issues, according to Chancery Clerk Mike Necaise. (Gex was out of town at the time of the workshop.)

This means Bourgeois and her staff remain without full telephone service until next Wednesday, when the next regular supervisors' board meeting is scheduled. Bourgeois can be reached via her portable phone at 466-2213.

However, those who call her at this number should be forewarned that passing traffic on the highway can interfere with the telephone transmission. Bourgeois said one caller reacted angrily when her call to Bourgeois was interrupted.

"She called me back and cursed me out because she thought I had hung up on her," Bourgeois said.

BAYOU CADDY CASINO

George Baxter, president of Bayou Caddy Casino Corp., appeared before the board and read from letters in which both the City of Waveland and the Waveland Wastewater Treatment district declare willingness to allow Bayou Caddy Casino access to the wastewater services.

Baxter said he felt compelled to appear as he had received phone calls from a reporter who questioned how negotiations were proceeding.

Baxter stated, "He (the reporter) said he was advised that it (wastewater services) would cost the city."

He commented he wished to correct a misunderstanding by one of the aldermen adding, "if we do get into negotiations...if it does cost anything for additional pumping of sewerage...we would pay for it ourselves."

What has happened to healthy and topical debate? What has happened to addressing important issues instead of ignoring them until they are lost and forgotten?

And in the are instance that Congress does take action, it systematically takes a good proposal, chops away at it, removes the good parts, narrows it down and adds bad parts. The Congress passes it to the President and says, "Okay, now sign it."

Hopefully the American public will soon see what the real problem is and do something about it. I see it every day when I walk onto the Senate floor, and I'm here to tell you that the problem is a Congress that just won't hunt.

WEDDINGS, ENGAGEMENTS

Billiot-Epperson

First Baptist Church in Bay St. Louis was the setting for the July 25 wedding of Donna L. Favre Epperson and Ray Edmond Billiot. The Rev. Dr. Ed J. Deuschle officiated the evening ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Favre of Pass Christian. The groom is the son of Mrs. Rita Bourn of Harvey, La., and Raymond Billiot of Houma, La.

Nuptial music was provided by pianist Colby Fabian.

Given in marriage by her father and Cory Favre, the bride wore a formal white off-the-shoulder gown of silk shantung, adorned with beaded schiffli lace. The puffed sleeves, fitted bodice, full skirt and chapel-length train were accented with seed pearls and lace.

Weight Loss Surprises Researchers

WASHINGTON — A nutrition organization was hopeful that a nutritionally complete "hi-tech" food tablet would help erase world hunger problems, until a study revealed that one of the ingredients could cause significant weight loss.

Although other studies and scientists may not agree, researchers in Europe found that the ingredient, a natural plant colloid, actually caused people to lose weight, even though specifically instructed not to alter normal eating patterns, according to one study published in the prestigious British Journal of Nutrition. Researchers in an earlier study had speculated that the weight loss was due to a decrease in the intestinal absorption of calories.

While the project of National Dietary Research, aptly named Food Source One, would not be used to successfully fulfill its original goal, the formula which has since been improved with other natural colloids, has been a windfall for some overweight people.

A Metairie, Louisiana nurse lost 71 pounds. She stated "I never had to sacrifice the foods I dearly crave!"

"Food Source One is very easy and anyone could do it," says a Niagara Falls, New York woman who lost 26 pounds and 15 inches. "The results are great," she added.

Food Source One tablets are part of National Dietary Research's comprehensive plan to bring a rapid end to obesity in this country. A variety of nutritionally sound diet plans, specially prepared by NDR, accompany each bottle and provide a natural, drug free alternative for confronting the problem of obesity.

CHURCH DIRECTORY

The most important thing parents can teach their children is how to get along without them.

— Frank Clark

"Children, obey your parents in all things..."

— Colossians 3:20

PARENTS SHOULD HELP SCHOOLS COMBAT EVIL INFLUENCES

There was a time when getting your children ready for school simply meant clothes, shoes, eye exams and vaccinations. Today, however, it also means warning them against any attempt to induce them to use drugs, join in gang activities, or commit acts of crime or vandalism. With all the evil influences abroad, this is not an easy time to bring up children—even the very young ones—and it requires an extra effort on the part of parents and law enforcement authorities to help the schools combat these things. However, it should also be remembered that the Sunday school at your House of Worship can teach your children positive moral values, helping them to see the advantages of a clean and law-abiding life. There is no more vital part of their education.

Tigers start '92 with winning '91 record

BY TRACI BONNEY

Last year, The Sea Coast Echo asked if the Bay High Tigers would roar during football season.

Well, it wasn't an earth-shaking, tree-rattling roar, but yes, the Tigers did roar. They roared their way to victory in five of the 10 games they played last season.

Now the question is, will they sustain that roar?

The 34-member varsity squad faces the same schedule of games it played last year. The season opener and first away game are both against longstanding rivals who defeated Bay High last year.

"Our first two games are our most important," commented head coach Rocky Gaudin. "We play Pass Christian at home September 4 to open the season, then St. Stanislaus at their field the next week.

"We haven't beaten either team in years. That's why these games are so important; if we can get off to a good start, I think it will lead to a great season for us."

The Pass Christian and St. Stanislaus games, as well as contests against Hancock and Long Beach, are the team's only non-district games. Matches against Forrest County, East Marion, Purvis, Vancleave, Perry Central and Poplarville will determine Bay High's district standing.

In addition, the Vancleave matchup October 9 is BHS's Homecoming.

The varsity team will host East Central August 28 in a pre-season game, and the 9th school contest. Gaudin said this is the first time the 9th graders have played a scrimmage.

grade squad will play a scrimmage against their East Central counterparts before the high

Three of the four Tiger teams — varsity, B team and 9th grade — have been practicing for two weeks. The 7th/8th grade team started last week.

"We're behind right now for several reasons," Gaudin said, looking frustrated. "The weather, the rain, is a big one."

"Also, we started practice a week later than other local teams. I think four weeks of practice is enough for the players. If you work too long before the season starts, that gives you more time for injuries to happen and players to tire."

"Injuries are the other factor that has put us behind. Our practice is physical. I don't believe in just running a few plays. We have the players get out there and really hit hard."

"We've had some pulls, twisted knees, sore shoulders. Nothing really serious, but it's enough to slow you up some.

"Coming out of spring training, I thought we had a really good team. I still think we have a good team.

"However, we've had some things happen I didn't count on. I lost two of my starters, tackle Miguel Smith because of academic problems and tailback Adrian Whavers, who moved to Jackson with his mom."

Whavers had been an outstanding Tiger player, earning Player of the Week honors several times during the season.

Even with those two losses, the Tigers begin the season with eight offensive and six defensive starters returning, and 15 seniors.

"Our defense will be the key," Gaudin said. "I plan to play two platoons this year, which is something new for us. We'll have at least 11 offensive players and 11 defensive players on to be changing staff every couple of years.

"Our athletic director, Cle- van Williams, also will be working as an assistant coach for the 7th/8th grade squad."

While the team and coaches are working on shaping up for the season, the school district and high school athletic club are working on shaping up the stadium and field house. Fence repairs, repainting the concession stand and pouring a concrete stadium entrance area, some minor landscaping are only a few of the things being done to revitalize the appearance of Tiger Stadium.

With the characteristic optimism that has carried him through the first two years of his coaching tenure with the Tigers, Gaudin concluded, "I believe we're going to have a good year."

An advantage for Gaudin is the fact that this team has been with him for two years. The team and coaches have learned to function together as a unit, he said.

Hawks 'pump it up' for 1992-'93

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

Hancock High School head coach Irvin Favre believes the Hawk's strength, credited to a year-round weight lifting program, to be the team's greatest beginning asset.

"We have a better weight lifting program now than we have ever had. We've got a pretty good bit of money in it...and we are proud of it," he stated.

"If anything, that may be the strength of our football program right now, having a good weight program, and it goes on all year."

Hancock will play 10 schools this year. Of those 10 games, six are district.

"We play in such a tough district, I feel the entire schedule is going to be tough," the coach explained.

"Concerning football, it's quite different around here, compared to what it was years ago."

"There used to be some teams I thought we were much better than, say five or more years ago. But, that changed because everybody built their football programs up."

"Whether we play district games or non-district, everybody is facing competition. The first four games we will play are against 5-A schools, and we are a 4-A school."

"Our football association is extremely tough down here. It's a football area anyway, and the competition is strong."

"Our program is now a year-round program. When football is over we go into off-season programs, and when school is out, we stay in off-season programs."

"There exists a no-win situation, as far as taking it easy. You have to work continuously."

"We are a young, inexperienced football team. I consider this to be a no name team, meaning we don't have any big names playing for us as we have had in the past. The Bobby Doyles, Terrance Goffs and even Jeff Favres are gone.

"The two big name people...the ones who have gotten the most publicity around here...where scouts have come and talked to us about them...are Dennis Malley and Jimmy Ray Thornton.

"Malley is a six-foot, 200-pound full back and Thornton is a six-foot two-inch, 230-pound guard.

Favre said the first thing he intends to look into this year is the development of depth in team positions.

"We need to get away from using one player in both offensive and defensive positions. We would like to have a player just to go one way.

"It is so hot down here in the early part of the year, the kid who has to play both ways, he just gets tired real quick."

"Win or lose," he concluded,

"we have a great program here. Our kids work hard, and our coaches work hard. We have excellent facilities and we have put a lot into our football program; it was not built overnight. We had a tough time.

"At one time Hancock had lost 36 straight football games. We played something like 18 years before we ever beat Bay St. Louis.

"I'm not going to make any predictions one way or the other.

"The only thing I'm going to say, is our kids will be ready to play. They will play hard, and I know they will do their very best. That is all I can ask."

The Hawks play a pre-season benefit against Biloxi High School at Yankee Stadium on Friday, August 28 at 7:30 p.m.

Regular season kicks off 7:30 p.m. Friday, September 4 in Hawk Stadium.

Proper tackling

A Hancock High School football coach instructs players on proper tackling through shoulder use. (Photo by T. H. "Doc" Toups)

Favre: Safety first

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

"The major factor in football head injuries and broken necks is improper tackling," Hancock High School head coach Irvin Favre stated.

Favre explained the first thing potential football players experience is the viewing of a nationally distributed film which demonstrates proper and improper tackling methods.

The idea is simplistic. Don't use your head.

Favre said hitting an opponent in the chest with the head and helmet was a practiced means of tackling in the past.

Because of the injuries suffered, there is a national rule which now prohibits any tackling or blocking with head and/or head gear.

A player will be ejected from a game if he is found to be intentionally using his head. The rule is actually more for the protection of the one using his head than for the protection of the one being hit.

Shoulder use in blocking and tackling is the currently taught method.

Favre picked up a newly purchased helmet and pointed to the sealed on manufacturer's warning sticker against head use in tackling and blocking.

"This is not a cure all," he added. "We try to alert our kids in every way possible that this helmet is not for spearing. So when we talk about tackling, we don't tackle with our heads."

"Now I'm not going to say that isn't going to happen. In the heat of the battle, they forget."

"In this situation it is dangerous for the one tackling, but it can also be dangerous for the one being tackled. Limbs and ribs can easily be broken.

Students are shown the safety film before they are permitted to try on shoulder pads, Favre emphasized. Each player must view the film, each year he participates.

"I can't say that an injury is not going to happen, but you can rest assured, that Hancock High School, grades 7-12, are taught the proper way of blocking and tackling."

"Other than that, looking at other types of safety, we give plenty of water breaks, and we don't try to put any kid back on the field who is injured. There is even a new rule now where if a kid gets knocked out, the only way he can re-enter that game, or any game, is with a doctor's permission."

According to Favre, the HHS football booster club pays for the service of a chiropractor who specializes in sports injuries. This doctor accompanies HHS football teams to all their games. Other schools have doctors and paramedic services available.

"The bottom line is safety first in football," the coach commented. "It would probably make me resign or quit if I ever knew I got a kid where he lost his life from playing. I don't think I could handle that."

Rock-A-Chaws field squad of 54 players

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

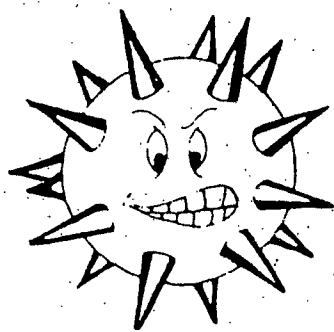

The St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws will open the 1992 football season with a young, untested team, according to head coach Ken Lyons.

Lyons will draw from a pool of 54 players who show a lot of enthusiasm.

Much will depend on four of the returning veterans, Brian Matherne, offensive guard; Jacob Alford, linebacker and offensive tackle; Matt Wilty, defensive end and linebacker; and Stanley Chapman, who is moving from the defensive squad to offensive.

There are only a few returning players who saw a lot of action with last year's squad. In the defensive backfield a lot will be expected from Brian Allen and Bryce Gex, who as 1991 reserve backs, saw plenty of action.

The balance of the squad will be from the "B" team and junior high squad, Lyons said.

With so few returning starters, Lyons said he has 'guarded optimism' as to how the '1992 Rocks' will come out of the season.

Stanislaus had a good start in the 1991 season, racking up a 5-1 record before finishing the season 5-5.

"We seemed to lose our intensity a bit in the second half of the season and went up against some very good teams. The key this year is to stay on track," Lyons added.

Several nagging injuries appeared to have played a role in several of the Rock's losses last season.

There will be several seniors listed on this year's roster, but few with experience in varsity play.

To fill the gaps from graduation last season, Lyons is counting on players from the "B" team and junior high squad, which has a good season last year.

Stanislaus will face the same teams this season; only the sites will change.

The first encounter of the season will be against Ocean

Bay High Athletic Club provides needed support

BY JANET MCQUEEN

The Bay High Athletic Club does more than provide "the extras" for student athletes.

Through its efforts, a new field house stands at the football stadium. A sprinkler system waters the football field. Players of the week are honored.

Now in its third year, the club was formed to encourage pride and school spirit in students through athletics.

Among other contributions are, an ice machine, batting cage and basketball retriever for the school; pre-game meals, half-time drinks and awards for the players; a soccer practice goal; athletic and cheerleader equipment; and the sponsoring of senior parents' nights, homecoming dance and alumni party.

The club secures sponsors for Player of the Week Awards in each sport. John McDonald Realty is sponsoring football awards for senior and junior high players. Additional sponsors are needed for basketball, soccer, tennis, softball, baseball and track.

To raise funds, the Athletic Club hosts an alumni reunion (September 18-20 at Diamondhead), sponsors the Gold, Blue and White patron's club and sells season passes.

The passes offer admittance to all home games in every sport throughout the '92-'93 season.

Student passes are $10, one adult $25, couple $35 and family pass, $60.

Tickets for this year's games are $4 each, making the season pass worth much more than its purchase price.

Officers this year are Joe Von Antz, president; Ricky Geofrey, vice president; Clarence Piazza, treasurer; Claudia Murphy, secretary; and Betty Didier, corresponding secretary.

Board members are Coco Loiacano, Jo Ellen Strong, Nanette Murphree, Lex Haynes, Mike Perniciaro, Ray Murphy and Donald Ray.

The club meets every Tuesday night at 7:30 in the all-purpose building at Bay High. Interested persons are welcome to attend.

Springs at home. This was a pre-season Jamboree game last year, but will be a regularly counted contest this season, Lyons said.

Stanislaus, rated 4-A, lost the Jamboree to Ocean Springs, but came back the next week to shock 5-A Gulfport at home in a 33-27 upset victory.

In preseason St. Stanislaus has really progressed, but has to be tested to see how well they play, Lyons commented.

In size there are a number of large players on the team, but most have a lack of experience, Lyons said.

The Rocks start the season with Ocean Springs, Gulfport, and Bay High at home; St. Martin, East Central, Picayune and Long Beach on the road; d'Iberville and Pearl River Central (homecoming) at home; and Gulf Breeze, Fla., away. They close the season against arch-rival Hancock High at Rock-A-Chaw stadium on Nov. 6.

Brother Paul Montero, SC, is president of St. Stanislaus and Dr. Michael Ryan, principal. Jerry Spell is athletic director.
